

Los ojos de la noche (The eyes of the night)

Lucía Molina Siegert | 35 x 25 cm, wax colors on paper

The look of the owl is somehow magical. Since ancient times, the owl has been symbolic of sight. It has a mysterious look that is strong. It attracts us. The owl is the bird that best represents the language of sight and glances. It is a symbol of beauty, mysticism, good news, and wisdom.

This artwork was submitted by Colegio: Inmaculada Jesuitas, Alicante, Spain.

Description by Jorge L. Alió

The "Miradas" competition was created by Jorge Alió, Journal of Refractive Surgery Editorial Board Member, and his wife, Maria Lopez, in 1998 with the intention of using artistic sensibility to bring society's attention to the phenomenon of sight, vision, and blindness. "Miradas," which means glances, is a contest in which artwork is sent from Spain and many international countries from the four continents for the Miradas International Artwork Competition every two years. Each cover of the Journal of Refractive Surgery features paintings that were submitted to this competition. "Miradas" is sponsored by OPHTEC BV, The Netherlands.
